Q: WPF Design-Time lookups Is there any way to generate a XAML definition of a look-up I don't have to copy to XAML? Like, for instance: Now there is no Prefix etc. But I want to generate the TextBlock automatically like this: `TextBlock Text = (TextBlock)Container.Template.FindName("MyAttribute");` Is this even possible? Perhaps I've got there a reference to UIElement and a Property of that type and thus generate the needed "attribute". A: For binding from C# code you can use `DynamicResource`: `dynamic d = (dynamic)Application.Current.FindResource("MyAttribute");` If you want to do something similar from XAML, you can create a custom control, which has Text property like this: `public class MyTextBox : UserControl { public static readonly DependencyProperty TextProperty = DependencyProperty.Register("Text", typeof(string), typeof(MyTextBox), new FrameworkPropertyMetadata()); public string Text { get { return (string)GetValue(TextProperty); } set { SetValue(TextProperty, value); } } protected override void OnContentChanged() { if (`

Phoenotopia Awakening is a turn-based RPG, much like FTL: Faster Than Light, The Purge, or XCOM, with a similar personality. Now, instead of traveling through the galaxy, you travel through Phoenotopia! Take the role of one of many explorers, exploring a variety of fantastical environments, and completing epic quests, in order to discover the secrets of this unknown planet. But because this is a turn-based game, only you can act on the current moment and do your best to make your decisions count. There are no random encounters in Phoenotopia Awakening - everything is done through encounters with unique and cunning inhabitants that will each have their own day-long actions that they will take, affecting your game. The game features a stats-heavy gameplay where your decisions matter, and your actions have consequences. You have a certain amount of charges for all of your actions, and when it runs out, a consequence will occur. Each character, town, encounter, and quest has its own story - some will be trivial, some will be challenging, some will take you on epic journeys. Some encounters will be peaceful - they could be questions or discovery. Others will be violent or have you against your own kind. You can side with the good guys, the bad guys, or the monsters - there are no set choices, and that is why each time you play the game, it will be a new adventure! The more you play, the better you will get at forming relationships and building the best group for the occasion. You can play the game solo, in coop, or with friends, and can even join a group once you are done! The game has a decent amount of content and it runs decently on a mid-ranged computer. It does not require a powerful computer to run, but it's not especially easy on even the more capable PCs. It is also only on sale until the 15th of September! Download Phoenotopia Awakening Soundtrack, compatible with Steam, iOS & Android! System Requirements Minimum Hard disk space: 6 GB RAM: 2 GB OS: Windows 8+ 64-bit (or higher) PC: Intel Core2 Duo, 3 GHz, DirectX11 Support for the below minimum specs are optional, so you can of course play the game on lower specs if you have the extra hardware space - just be aware that you might encounter more hiccups than usual during play. VX EVOLUTION COACH VIDEO As a commercial pilot and airline transport captain, I have seen the most advanced data logging technology in the business fly by. GPS, aviation watches, and satellite imaging are just a few that I'm so used to that it doesn't even register. But in 2007, Redshift Technologies introduced the first true GPS tracking device for pilots in the Evocation VX. And it took the aviation industry in a new direction. It is the first and only device to combine connected and integrated electronic tracking, alerts, and messaging on an iPod Touch so pilots from any location can monitor, log, and manage the exact location of each aircraft. Today Redshift follows up that system with the same level of monitoring for any driver while he is in the race car—or a vehicle he is driving at any time. And Redshift has innovatively made its Sport Series and Coach Series Evocation SportCars and Evocation EVOLUTION COACH with a completely redesigned and optimized system to make it so. Here's how to go from being a passenger to being a partner in Redshift's EVOLUTION® COACH™: DESIGNED TO PRODUCE THE RIGHT RESPONSE The Evocation EVOLUTION COACH was designed from the ground up to produce results in increasing driver accountability, especially with the rise of the “High Performance Driver”. Elite drivers were being disciplined on past technical infractions and Redshift learned that it was not the technical transgression that was the cause of the change, but rather, the change in methodology to implement more rigorous monitoring and road safety software. The EVOLUTION COACH™ is the first version of the company's flagship EVOLUTION® product that was born out of our own study on how to improve the safety of the average driver, the vehicle driving tool. In traditional monitoring, it was the driver who ultimately carried the burden of adapting to the car as a changing learning environment. Anything that occurred outside the direct control of the driver was considered unacceptable and sent a message of failure. But in an EVOLUTION COACH™ system, it is the car that learns more, adapts, and changes its own behavior. And the driver is free to focus their full attention and attention span on the road. The preprogrammed routes with challenging maneuvers are designed to force maximum safety while focusing the driver's full attention on the road. But the system also adapts to

You'll have to find health potions, holy wafers, food, and water as you travel the forgotten lands. Reviews “‘Something’s not right with this game’ you may be thinking. You’ve noticed that you’re playing a game about the power of prayer, and that you can play it without a single touch of your own will. The player is God. The player is a puppet. The player is no longer human. The game is in full control.” - Indie Game Review

PlayStation: "The package is wonderful, beautiful, and an entertaining adventure. Pocket Gamer: "The House in Fata Morgana really is a smart, tight, beautifully crafted mystery. There's just one problem. It's also a beautiful, smart, tight, beautifully crafted mystery that you don't want to spend too long with. I'm not saying it's a bad game, because it's very good and it works. That's just how it is. It's a really good game, but it takes time to appreciate. And while you may never get bored of it, there is always somewhere new to explore." - Pocket Gamer - Review Gamezine.com: "The House in Fata Morgana is pure gold. It's a wonderful, haunting experience, and one that never really lets up - so many fascinating puzzles - but it's a world you'll want to lose yourself in. The back and forth of the game is like a full time job, a big complex puzzle to solve, but there's no end in sight. This is
